.....Bohemia FORESTRY .- We are pleased to know that our agriculturists appreciate the efforts of this journal to arouse public attention to the importance of legislation for the preservation of our forests. # Encouraging words of approbation come to us from planters on Maui. We trust they will further agitate the subject, so that it may be brought before the Legislature for definite action the present session.

OPTHALMIA .- A disease of the eyes which goes by the above name has been prevalent in town during the past fortnight. When taken in hand at an early stage its progress may be soon checked, but if neglected it is liable to run for weeks and become very painful. The editor of this paper knows whereof he speaks (through an amanuensis) having been a week without the ability to read or write. Think of that, ye book worms!

AN EXCITING RACE.-Those who watched the Murray's arrival off the port were treated to a sight not bargained for. According to arrangement, the news boat followed the pilot immediately, so as to board her on the hoisting of the health flag without detention; but in the effort to get in before dark, the bark did not stop longer than was necessary to take the pilot; the news boat therefore had to hoist sail and chase her, not catching up till off the bell buoy-The stern chase in this case proved a long one, and was enjoyed as much by those on board as on shore.

A CONTRAST .-- His Ex, J. M. Kapena deserves credit as being the first to propose that each member of the Legislative Assembly be supplied dur- back to the Judges of election for correction. ing their session with a copy of each newspaper published here; and the assembly itself by their ready acquiescence in the proposal, have evinced a spirit of appreciation of the value of periodical literature, differing from the parsimony of the Assembly of 1874, who for alleged economy, refused a like proposition. Their after lavishness in voting large appropriations, along with a million loan bill is a discrepancy, however, only in keeping with many other of their distinguishing acts.

A NEW BRIDGE .- The road Supervisor seems at last to have waked up to the danger to peoples lives from bad roads and rotten bridges. The whole extent of Beretania street from the bridge on Punchbowl street, to the waikiki corner, has at last (for once in the memory of men living) been rebuilt, and is now a finer road than any in the city. In addition to this, extensive and much needed improvement, a new bridge has been built at the junction of the waikiki road and King street, which is a great improvement on the rotten piece of architecture, which has always been a dangerous pass for carriages which frequently drive that BOAT RACES .- Yesterday afternoon a large crowd was assembled on the wharves to witness some races that were to come off between boats manned from the U.S.S. Lackawanna and H.B.M's Myrmidon respectively, which were to try singly against the native boat-boys and their boats. At 3 o'clock P. M. the English and Native boat started together; but the English mistaking the goal, returned too soon, and lost their race, although, ahead all the way. Upon the arrival of the first two boats the American and Native then started; but the race resulted in the complete victory of the Lackawanna boat and crew.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY. SESSION OF 1876.

Pursuant to Proclamation, the Legislative Assembly of the Kingdom was formally opened April 29th, at Aliiolani Hale (Government House) by His Majesty the King in person. At precisely 12 o'clock the guns of the battery on Punchbowl, responded to by those of the U. S. S. Lackawanna, announced the King's departure from the Palace, and a few minutes thereafter he entered the Legislative Hall, accompanied by the Queen, Prince Leleiohoku, and Her Highness Ruth Keelikolani, and took his position on the dais. On the right of the Throne were the Ministers of the Crown, the Princesses Kamakaeha Dominis and Likelike Cleghorn, and the Ladies of the Court, and on the left foreign Diplomatic Representatives, and the Consular Corps, and ladies, and the commanders and officers of the U. S. S. Lackawanna and H. B. M. S. Myrmidon. Immediately in front were the Nobles and Representatives. The remainder of the spacious hall was filled with ladies and gentlemen, foreigners On the entrance of the Royal Party the audience arose, and remained standing while the Rev. Henry H. Parker offered prayer. His Majesty then read the following Royal Speech:

His Er. W. R. Castle moved that a committee be appointed to frame a reply to His Majesty's speech. H. R. H. Leleichoku thought that as there were | mittee some very important points suggested in His Majesty's speech, it would be better for the House to fully understand the meaning of those points before they adopt such motion and draw up the reply. It will be remembered also that His Majesty calls our attention to the important subject of preserving our race, which has already been discussed in the shape of a memorial that was lately made public. He therefore begged to suggest that the House defer action before appointing said committee. His Ex. W. R. Castle thought that it was a matter of courtesy to His Majesty to reply to his speech as soon as convenient, and assure him that we shall consider the different points presented by him at its appropriate time.
